Privacy Policy

Canis Major Software cares about protecting our customers' privacy. In the process of providing the products and services requested, we will collect, use and share certain information provided by our customers. This Privacy Policy explains what information we collect and how we use that information. This policy also explains how Canis Major Software protects the security and confidentiality of customer information.

Collection of Information

Canis Major Software collects and stores customer information to successfully provide services our customers request. In that process we may collect non-public information as a result of interviews, completion of questionnaires or other forms, customer transactions or direct experience with these customers.

Confidentiality of Information

Canis Major Software does not disclose any non-public information about customers either during or after their relationships with us, to anyone, except as permitted by law, such as to a customer's authorized representative, or in order to provide the services our customers request, or to comply with applicable laws or regulations.

Internal Protection of Information

Canis Major Software restricts access to non-public information about customers to those employees or contractors who need to know that information to provide the services our customers request. Canis Major Software maintains physical, electronic and procedural safeguards to comply with federal regulations to guard this information.

Disclosure of the Privacy Policy

Disclosure of this Privacy Policy is for informational purposes only. Canis Major Software may amend this Privacy Policy at anytime and will update it as required. The current Privacy Policy is posted on the Canis Major Website at www.canismajorsoftware.com.
